

First Annual School Exhibit and Farm Products Show

Will Be Held at Clearfield During Institute Week by Educational and Farming Interests

LIST OF PREMIUMS AND PRIZES ISSUED

The first annual school exhibit and farm products show for Clearfield County will be held in Clearfield during Institute Week, beginning on December 18th and continuing to the 23rd. This exhibit will be under the direction of County Superintendent Weingerber and County Farm Agent Kennedy, assisted by the Subordinate Grange, Agricultural Society, individual farmers and business men of Clearfield.

The purpose of the exhibit is to stimulate the pupils of the county in their efforts and to properly develop and foster the study of agriculture in the schools.

The school exhibit will be entirely up to the teacher and pupils of the different schools, entire liberty being given as to the kind or character of exhibit.

For the guidance of teachers a list of possible exhibits has been sent them by County Superintendent and is as follows:

Six to twelve compositions.
Six to twenty drawings.
Map drawings of United States, Pennsylvania or Clearfield county.
Six to twenty copies of hand writing, either with or without drill exercises.

Best work of any kind which will fill a wall space about 3 ft. by 4 ft. This work may be paper folding, paper tearing, sewing cards, paper folders, etc.

Needle work, manual training, Raffle work and basketry, of any kind would be very acceptable.

Outlines made by students of historical topics will make a good exhibit. An exhibit of work for Thanksgiving or Christmas display would be excellent.

Odd exhibits of any kind will be gladly received.

The material for the exhibit can be packed in a box and sent to the office of the County Superintendent by the teacher or one of the pupils or patrons of the school. Agricultural exhibits should each be wrapped separately and a card bearing the name of the variety should be enclosed.

All exhibits should be in one week before the opening of the County Institute and no exhibit will be received later than the Saturday preceeding the opening of Institute. Exhibits may be removed Friday or Saturday of Institute Week.

A number of educational agricultural exhibits will be furnished by State College.

An admission fee of 10 cents will be charged to defray expenses.

RAILROAD WAGE INVESTIGATING COMMITTEE AT WORK.

Here are nine members of the joint railroad investigating committee of the Senate and the House, one of the most important committees which has been appointed for some time. The whole question, not only of the Adamson law, passed at the last session of Congress, but of transportation and shipping, is to be taken up by this committee and the hearings promise to be of intense interest, not only to the members of the railway brotherhoods immediately affected, but to shippers and the public.

Incinerator Plant Purchased for DuBois

Council Passes Motion Obliging Installation of Jones System.

A second big step towards procuring an incinerating plant for DuBois was taken this morning when council, at a special meeting, unanimously passed a motion morally obligating itself to install the plant produced by Jones Brothers, of Macon, Ga.

E. M. Jones, of the Jones Brothers, was present at the meeting and presented a blank agreement that was accepted after considerable discussion. It provides for the installation of a single unit garbage incinerating plant, upon a site to be designated by the city, at a cost of $5,000 completed. The plant is to be odorless and will take care of from 8 to 10 tons of garbage, night soil and various other refuse every 24 hours. It will be constructed of corrugated iron and wood covering upon 12 inches of brick walls. Pictures of other plants that the Jones Brothers Co. has constructed and will be followed here, indicate that it will be a thing of beauty. A legal contract will be signed after proper preparations are made.

EVACUATION DAY IN NEW YORK

New York, Nov. 25.—Evacuation day, the holiday that "Little Old New York" keeps all her own, was celebrated today with the customary parade of the Old Guard down Broadway, followed by the raising of flags at the sites of the old Revolutionary forts and winding up with a dinner by the Sons of American Revolution and other patriotic societies. It was on this date in 1783 that the last of the British troops on American soil departed from this city, and as their ships made their way down the bay Washington's army entered.

OKLAHOMA MUNICIPAL

Oklahoma City, Okla., Nov. 25.—Mayors and other officials of all the prominent cities of Oklahoma are coming to this city early next week to exchange views and listen to expert discussion on a wide variety of municipal problems. The occasion of the gathering will be the second annual convention of the Oklahoma Municipal League. Several prominent speakers have been engaged to address the convention, the sessions of which will begin Monday and continue over Tuesday.

BORN WHEN JEFFERSON WAS PRESIDENT—110 YEARS OLD

Waxahachie, Tex., Nov. 25.—(By United Press)—Mrs. Narsis Burns, born when Thomas Jefferson was president of the United States, will celebrate her 110th birthday tomorrow. Her three daughters, the eldest of whom is 89, and many of her 110 grand and great-grand children will be at the celebration.

Full in the fighting on the west front heavy fighting is in action in the action in the east, opening their drive toward Bucharest. Teutonic forces have taken Simitza and have gained a foothold on Roumanian soil. Indications were that one of the greatest battles of the war is rapidly developing.

MEN OF EUROPE

Men of Europe list to me,
Why will you so blind me;
Leaving children, home and wives
Laying down your precious lives.

Tell me what you're fighting for
What's your grievance in this war
What have you my friends to gain
Shedding human blood in vain.

Brothers all beneath the sky
Can you give good reason why
At the call of one or two
At each other's throats you flew.

Let the voice of God be heard
Traitor reason should be stirred
Lay ye down your arms my men
Loved ones need ye home again.

Not for the war the Haker wrought
Ye are pawns for royal sport
Call a halt, let bloodshed cease
Men of Europe, Make for peace.

—Mayer Herman.

Prepare for Sailing Of Christmas Ship

Time yet to Make Donation Though Cargo is About Completed

New York, Nov. 25.—(By United Press)—Boxes, bales and bundles of supplies to form the cargo of the American Red Cross Christmas relief ship for the benefit of Syrians were arriving at Red Cross Bush terminal in Brooklyn today—the last day of their availability. The relief ship is to sail for Beirut, Syria about December 1. The shipment will be chiefly clothing.

Persons who intended to make gifts but delayed too long still have opportunity. On account of the fighting on the Somme immense stores of hospital supplies are needed. Money donations made the Red Cross for these supplies will be applied promptly.

Whether a printing ring exists in Albany will be aired in the trial of a $100,000 spit for alleged slander, which came up in court here today.

The suit was brought by A. J. Dowling, former inspector of printing in the now defunct State Department of Efficiency and Economy, against Charles M. Winchester, head of the J. B. Lyon Printing company, of Albany, which does the bulk of the State work. Mr. Dowling charges that Mr. Winchester used the word "blackmail" in such a way as to slander him. In his answer Mr. Winchester admits that he made the remark "What are you trying to do—blackmail me," but his attorney contends that this cannot be construed as slander. The case was brought to Dutchess county on change of venue.

YOUNG KNOX AND SHOPGIRL WIFE WILL DIVORCE

Son of Senator-Elect Completes Necessary Period of Residence in Reno Today

MARITAL PATH QUITE THORNY

Reno, Nev., Nov. 25.—(By United Press)—Communication between Chihuahua City and Juarez has ceased. No reports have been received from Gen. Trevino for over 48 hours. The last message from Consul General Garcia declared that Villistas in heavy forces were bombarding the first line trenches and the protecting Carranza forces on Santa Rosa hill. United States officials here believe Chihuahua City will be taken by Villa before nightfall. The battle of Chihuahua City will go down in history as the bloodiest battle of the revolution.

El Paso, Nov. 25.—(By United Press)—Shortly after daylight today a concerted attack on two sides of Chihuahua City was made by Villistas according to a report received by the United States department agents here. Consul General Garcia stated today that the message telling of the beginning of a three day's battle between the defacto government and Villa has not been received.

El Paso, Nov. 25.—(By United Press)—A young man who had eloped from Providence, R. I., in March, 1910, with Miss Mae G. Boiler a pretty shopgirl, the path of romance has been a very thorny one for the young couple. It was while he was a student at a preparatory school that the youth met and fell in love with the auburn-haired salesgirl. After a whirlwind courtship they eloped and traveled vainly through three states before they could find a clergyman to perform the marriage ceremony. Finally a minister in Burlington, Vt., united the runaways.

With his bride young Knox went to his father's home in Washington for the parental blessing. But forgiveness was withheld and he was summarily told by his father that having married to suit his fancy he could get out and hustle for himself.

The young man got a job selling motor cars, but something must have gone wrong with the trade that year because he soon turned to other lines of business. But they, too, failed to bring the success he sought. Papa Knox then relented and took the young couple to live with him in his handsome country home at Valley Forge. This helped some but only for a time. One fine spring morning the young husband packed his bag and departed for Bermuda, without the formality of kissing his wife good-bye. Later there was a reconciliation and the young couple went to reside at Charleston, W. Va. But again the path of romance hit a rocky road and the young couple separated this time for good. Young Mrs. Knox took up her residence in New York, and announced her purpose to seek fame behind the footlights. A few months later the signature of "P. C. Knox, Jr." appeared on the register of the Reno Y. M. C. A., and the glad hand was extended to the newcomer by the divorce lawyers.

The tables were loaded down with good things. After all had done ample justice to the inner man, which was thirty in number, a few spicy toasts were given, after which a vote of thanks was given to the ladies who compose the circle for their excellent repast. After spending a most pleasant evening all departed for their homes feeling that it was good to be there.

OUCH! LUMBAGO! RUB! PAINS FROM SORE, LAME BACK

Rub backache away with small trial bottle of old, penetrating "St. Jacob's Oil."

Back hurt you? Can't straighten up without feeling sudden pains, sharp aches and twinges? Now listen! That's lumbago, sciatica or may be from a strain, and you'll get relief the moment you rub your back with soothing, penetrating "St. Jacob's Oil." Nothing else takes out soreness, lameness and stiffness so quickly. You simply rub it on your back and out comes the pain. It is harmless and doesn't burn the skin. Limber up! Don't suffer! Get a small trial bottle of old, honest "St. Jacob's Oil" from any drug store, and after using it just once, you'll forget that you ever had backache, lumbago or sciatica, because your back will never hurt or cause any more misery. It never disappoints and has been recommended for 60 years.

CHURCH TO CELEBRATE JUBILEE

New York, Nov. 25.—A committee composed of W. Bourke Cochran, Nicholas F. Brady and other of the most prominent Catholic laymen of New York has completed arrangements for a celebration of the golden jubilee of the church of St. Ignatius Loyola. The celebration is to continue an entire week, beginning tomorrow with a solemn pontifical mass at which the celebrant will be the Most Rev. John Bonzano, the Apostolic Delegate at Washington. Cardinal Farley will preside and the anniversary sermon will be preached by the Very Rev. Raymond Meagher.

Rev. S. Lines, Episcopal bishop of Newark, born in Haverhill, Conn., 71 years ago today.

Lesson IX.—Fourth Quarter, For Nov. 26, 1916.

THE INTERNATIONAL SERIES.

Text of the Lesson, Rom. xii, 1-8. Memory Verses, 6-8—Golden Text, Rom. xii, 1—Commentary Prepared by Rev. D. M. Stearns.

This is our last study in the epistles for some time to come, but the believer who desires to grow in grace and walk with the Lord will study them constantly. In our lesson of two weeks ago we gave some attention to the whole of this epistle, but a little repetition will be helpful, with some additional thoughts. The epistles, as a rule, are for believers or saints or saved sinners to build them up and fit them for service, that God may be glorified in them and other sinners saved to help complete the church and bring the time of the kingdom. The first eight chapters of this letter teach most fully and clearly that all, without exception, Jews and Gentiles, are sinners and guilty before God and that salvation is wholly of grace, apart from any works of ours, and that, being justified freely by His grace, we are made children of God, joint heirs with Jesus Christ, in the love from which nothing can separate us; that, while we wait for our redemption bodies and the deliverance of the whole creation from its bondage and groaning, we have all things freely given us in Christ and all things are working together for our highest good.

Chapters ix, x, xi, may well be called an epistle within an epistle concerning Israel and her future. Then in our lesson chapter and onward we are told how we ought to live here to the glory of God because of all that He has done for us through grace. "I beseech you, therefore, brethren, by the mercies of God," because of His great grace, His great love, His great salvation, the great glory of the kingdom to which He has called you, all that He has done for you, is doing now and will yet do. Let Him have your body to live in, to make a mansion of, while He is preparing your mansion in glory. In Rom. viii, 26, 31, 34, we learn that the Father, Son and Holy Spirit are all for us, and in John xiv, 17, 23, we learn that they will make their home in us if we are willing, making each of us a mansion for the indwelling Trinity while our mansion in heaven is being prepared. The words "mansion" and "abode" in John xiv, 23, are the same word in the Greek, a little noun of only four letters, and used nowhere else.

The same truth is stated a little differently in Eph. iii, 17, "that Christ may dwell in you, is doing now and will yet do. Let Him have your body to live in, to make a mansion of, while He is preparing your mansion in glory. In Rom. viii, 26, 31, 34, we learn that the Father, Son and Holy Spirit are all for us, and in John xiv, 17, 23, we learn that they will make their home in us if we are willing, making each of us a mansion for the indwelling Trinity while our mansion in heaven is being prepared. The words "mansion" and "abode" in John xiv, 23, are the same word in the Greek, a little noun of only four letters, and used nowhere else.

The works of God are beautiful, but men at enmity with God are under the control of the devil, and the condition of things in Europe (June, 1915) gives us some idea of what he can do. He is a deceiver, a liar, a destroyer, a murderer, and all who are not in Christ and on his side are on the side of the devil. How can a child of God be willing to be conformed to such a world? The word that is translated "transformed," is used only four times and twice in the account of our Lord's transfiguration (Mk. viii, 28 and Mark ix, 2). The other place besides here is in Cor. iii, 18, where the translation is "are changed." Our lesson verse says that the change must be inward, the renewing of our mind. It begins when we receive the Lord Jesus, and then as we continue beholding Him we are changed by the Spirit day by day, proving more and more fully how good and acceptable and perfect the will of God is.

All that follows in our lesson chapter is the varied manifestation of the fruit of the Spirit, which He will work in us if we are yielded to Him. Verses 2-16 tell of a lowly mind and a lowly spirit, not thinking anything of ourselves nor seeking great things for ourselves. There is a peace and a ministry for each member of the body, as the Spirit may decide, and no room for envy or jealousy (verses 4-8). In the service of the Lord there must be diligence, with love and patient and prayer and love, a readiness to forgive and to esteem others better than ourselves (verses 9-16). Verse 18 hints that it may not be possible to live blameless with some people, and such circumstances will need special grace and wisdom and guidance, which God will not fail to give.

These Tremendous Advantages—

More power—35 horsepower motor.
More room—112-inch wheelbase.
Greater comfort—long, 48-inch cantilever rear springs and 4-inch tires.
Greater convenience—electrical control buttons on steering column.
Bigger, safer brakes—service, 13½x2¼; emergency, 13x2¼.
Better cooling—you never heard of an Overland motor overheating.

These are tremendous advantages over anything to be had in other cars that sell for anywhere near as low a price. And they make it hard for us to keep up with orders. The factory has never yet caught up with the demand. You ought to own one of these cars—nothing else so big and fine for the money. Come in and order yours now.

OVERLAND 75 - B PERFORMS WONDERS ON SEVERE HILL, CLIMB TEST IN STRAITS SETTLEMENT.

From far off Penang, next to Singapore, the most important city in the Straits Settlements in the East Indies, comes another story of the remarkable power and endurance of the New Series Model 75 B Overland.

In this instance the small but powerful car negotiated the entire distance from the base to the top of Government Hill, a little more than 2400 feet in height, over a road practically unknown to vehicle traffic. Its steep grade can be better appreciated when it is known that the usual way of ascending it is in a chair carried by six coolies.

The road up the side of Government Hill measures 2.85 miles from the bottom to the top and it has an average gradient of 1 to 6.3. The ascent was made more difficult by the bars of earth which run obliquely across the road, at intervals of 40 feet, in order to direct the rain water into the drain at the side. These bars are about five inches high with their side slopes sloping at an angle of 40 degrees.

"Ever since I took up motoring my ambition has been to climb to the top of Government Hill," writes T. Kwong Kai of Penang, who made the ascent. "The difficulties of the climb lie in the bars across the road and the hairpin corners. Whenever one of these bars was crossed the car jumped into the air and the engine did 2,000 revolutions per minute. When the rear wheels came back to earth we could almost hear the road eating chunks out of the tires. At every jump, some of the passengers thought the frame would snap in two. The driver had to cling to the steering wheel while the passengers gripped the sides of the body.

The car took the hairpins easily, but there were some of which were too sharp to allow the car to pass without reversing. When it was found that the car could not turn around, the throttle was closed and as soon as the car was running backwards the front wheels were turned the opposite way; when a favorable position was reached, the car was stopped and wooden blocks put behind the rear wheels. This made restarting easier than when the brakes were applied the whole time when we were 2.3 miles from the bottom, a heavy rain came up and we postponed the trip until the next day.

"On the following day the road was dry again and we were soon on sight of our destination. The car stopped near a stone displaying the inscription '2776 feet above the sea level.' Somehow or other we managed to turn around in the 16-foot road and we started down. The descent was made without incident and during the whole trip the car depended entirely on its own brakes.

"In spite of the prolonged and low gear coming down the hill, the car never overheated and the last watered tour for the first annual observance amounted to only two gallons of gas. The purpose of the observance is to use on the journey, a little less than five miles, which normally would have propelled the car over more than 20 miles of level road."

OREGON LAW WILL LIMIT WOMEN WORKERS

Next Legislature Will Provide for 48 hour Week and Half Holiday on Saturday

MODELED AFTER ALI CFORIAN

Portland, Ore., Nov. 24.—(By United Press)—A 48-hours of labor a week law for women will be placed before the Oregon state legislature when it meets the second Monday in January, by the Consumers league of Portland.

This act provides that women may not work for wages more than 48 hours a week. It does NOT, however limit their labor to eight hours a day. The idea is that women may work more than eight hours five days a week, so they may have a half-holiday on Saturdays.

The law is modeled generally after the California law. Father O'Hara, a prominent member of the Consumers' league says a bill similar to this will probably be submitted to all the state legislatures assembling this year.

Another bill to be presented to the Oregon legislature provides that owners of cold storage warehouses must make monthly reports to certain designated government officials, giving a detailed inventory of all goods in their plants. This law is intended to halt the practice of storing perishables, such as butter, during a low price period, and keeping them until the prices go up.

TESTIMONIAL TO OLDEST ACTOR

New York, Nov. 25.—All the leading theatrical managers in New York together with a vast number of prominent actors and actresses now appearing in this city have tendered their services for the testimonial performance to be given at New Amsterdam Theater tomorrow afternoon in honor of F. F. Mackay. The performance will be given under the auspices of the Actors' Fund. The recipient of the testimonial is one of the best known veterans of the American stage. At the present time he is believed to be the oldest active player in the country.

"NATIONAL FISHERIES DAY"

Baltimore, Md., Nov. 24.—The National Association of Fisheries Commissioners, which includes the commissioners of 26 states, has designated tomorrow for the first annual observance of "National Fisheries Day." The purpose of the observance is to use on the journey, a little less than five miles, which normally would have propelled the car over more than 20 miles of level road."

COMB SAGE TEA INTO GRAY HAIR

Darkens Beautifully and Restores Its Natural Color and Lustre at Once

Common garden sage brewed into a heavy tea, with sulphur and alcohol added, will turn gray streaked and faded hair beautifully dark and luxuriant. Mixing the Sage Tea and Sulphur recipe at home, though, is troublesome. An easier way is to get the ready-to-use preparation improved by the addition of other ingredients, costing about 50 cents a large bottle, at drug stores, known as "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound," thus avoiding a lot of muss.

While, gray, faded hair is not sinful, we all desire to retain our youthful appearance and attractiveness. By darkening your hair with Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound, no one can tell because it does it so naturally, so evenly. You just dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through your hair, taking one small strand at a time; by morning all gray hairs have disappeared. After another application or two your hair becomes beautifully dark, glossy, soft and luxuriant and you appear years younger. Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound is a delightful toilet requisite. It is not intended for the cure, mitigation or prevention of disease.

Those who would attain to any marked degree of excellence in a chosen pursuit must work, and work hard for it, prince or peasant.

"THE MAN FROM BITTER ROOTS"

Special Fox Feature at the Globe Theatre Monday

William Farnum takes the part of a miner, Bruce Burt.

Bruce starts out on a hunt for the sister of his former partner in the mining-camp, to give her the share of gold dust due her. In the search, he tells his story to another man, T. V. Sprudell, who finds the girl, gives her $500, which, he says, is the share due her from the mine, and starts the Bitter Roots Mining Co. for himself.

Then Bruce turns up. He has learned of the scheme of the unscrupulous chancier, and he is determined to foil it. He finds the girl, tells her the true story, and forms a partnership with her. They determine to fight Sprudell, and regain ownership of the mine.

A new plant goes up on the Bitter Roots Mining Co. property. It belongs to Bruce and Helen. But it is scarcely completed when a devastating fire sweeps the land, destroys the building, and leaves the place a ruin. Everything has gone against Bruce. At a great sacrifice, Helen goes to Bruce's father, a wealthy ranchman, from whom he has been estranged. The party, and goodness of the girl, and her earnest pleas for the wins the old man, and father and son are re-united. The Bitter Roots Mining Co. is re-established, and Helen becomes general manager of more things than a mine.

TRIO OF TRIANGLE STARS SEEN IN "HONOR THY NAME"

Frank Keenan, Charles Ray and Louise Glaum Have Leading Roles in Southern Drama

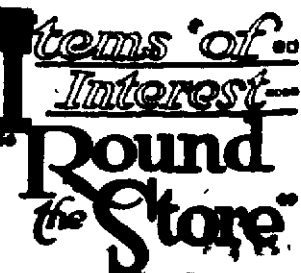

Frank Keenan, Charles Ray and Louise Glaum are to be seen in "Honor Thy Name" Triangle-Ince play, to be seen at the Opera House Monday. "Honor Thy Name" is the story of a father's sacrifice to save his son. Colonel Slocum Castleton (Frank Keenan) was a gray blade in his day, and one of his flames had been the celebrated opera singer Rosita. But, one night returning to his apartment, he had found her with another man and promptly dropped her.

Now he is a respected Southern gentleman, living quietly with his wife and son Rodney. Rodney (Charles Ray) is in love with Rosalee Carey, a distant cousin, and the prospective match is thoroughly acceptable to Rodney's parents. Then the Colonel sends his son to New York to the university. There Rodney falls into bad company and presently is introduced to Viola Bretagne (Louise Glaum), a dancer. She, real girl, he is a young man of considerable means, spreads her net to catch him, and very soon after Rodney writes home to his father that he is going to marry "the sweetest girl in New York". The old man at once comes to New York and, straightening himself up, takes the girl away from Rodney just to show him how unworthy she is. Then it develops that viola is the daughter of Rosita, and all of her mother's desire for revenge comes back. Viola wins Rodney back, and after a drunken spree he finds that he has married her. She makes him take her to his father's home. There she declines to accept the father's cash terms for final settlement, and the old man determines on a way to get rid of her that is one of the most terrible, but withal one of the most thrilling, series of scenes ever shown upon the screen.

AN AUTHOR OF MANY SUCCESSES

Fred Jackson, the author of "A Full House" who now enjoys the distinction of having written the biggest farce hit of the century, has several other successful plays to his credit. This American author's ability to write funny plays of such distinguished merit, has been the subject of much wonderment and newspaper comment. "A Full House" is as thoroughly American in topic and treatment as it is in title. The story is most ingenious in its basis and development, and a factor greatly to its credit is that it is good, clean, wholesome fun, the kind of humor that men can discuss freely, not only with their own women folk, but with the women folk of others. "A Full House" sounds very like a big hard, and it will take a mighty good combination to beat it. The play will be presented in this city at the Opera House on Tuesday evening. Seats now on sale.

First Annual School Exhibit and Farm Products Show

Will Be Held at Clearfield During Institute Week by Educational and Farming Interests

LIST OF PREMIUMS AND PRIZES ISSUED

The first annual school exhibit and farm products show for Clearfield County will be held in Clearfield during Institute Week, beginning on December 1st and continuing to the 23rd. This exhibit will be under the direction of County Superintendent Weingerber and County Farm Agent Kennedy, assisted by the Subordinate Grange, Agricultural Society, individual farmers and business men of Clearfield.

The purpose of the exhibit is to stimulate the pupils of the county in their efforts and to properly develop and foster the study of agriculture in the schools.

The school exhibit will be entirely up to the teacher and pupils of the different schools, entire liberty being given as to the kind or character of exhibit.

For the guidance of teachers a list of possible exhibits has been sent them by County Superintendent and is as follows:

Six to twelve compositions.
Six to twenty drawings.
Map drawings of United States, Pennsylvania or Clearfield county.
Six to twenty copies of hand writing, either with or without drill exercises.

Best work of any kind which will fill a wall space about 3 ft. by 4 ft. This work may be paper folding, paper tearing, sewing cards, paper folders, etc.

Needle work, manual training, Raffle work and basketry, of any kind would be very acceptable.

Outlines made by students of historical topics will make a good exhibit. An exhibit of work for Thanksgiving or Christmas display would be excellent.

Odd exhibits of any kind will be gladly received.

The material for the exhibit can be packed in a box and sent to the office of the County Superintendent by the teacher or one of the pupils or patrons of the school. Agricultural exhibits should each be wrapped separately and a card bearing the name of the variety should be enclosed.

All exhibits should be in one week before the opening of the County Institute and no exhibit will be received later than the Saturday preceeding the opening of Institute. Exhibits may be removed Friday or Saturday of Institute Week.

RAILROAD WAGE INVESTIGATING COMMITTEE AT WORK.

Seated, left to right—Representative Adamson, vice chairman and Senator Newlands, Chairman. Here are nine members of the joint railroad investigating committee of the Senate and the House, one of the most important committees which has been appointed for some time. The whole question, not only of the Adamson law, passed at the last session of Congress, but of transportation and shipping, is to be taken up by this committee and the hearings promise to be of intense interest, not only to the members of the railway brotherhoods immediately affected, but to shippers and the public.

Incinerator Plant Purchased for DuBois

Council Passes Motion Obliging Installation of Jones System.

A second big step towards procuring an incinerating plant for DuBois was taken this morning when council, at a special meeting, unanimously passed a motion morally obligating itself to install the plant produced by Jones Brothers, of Macon, Ga.

E. M. Jones, of the Jones Brothers, was present at the meeting and presented a blank agreement that was accepted after considerable discussion. It provides for the installation of a single unit garbage incinerating plant, upon a site to be designated by the city, at a cost of $5,000 completed. The plant is to be odorless and will take care of from 8 to 10 tons of garbage, night soil and various other refuse every 24 hours. It will be constructed of corrugated iron and wood covering upon 12 inches of brick walls. Pictures of other plants that the Jones Brothers Co. has constructed and will be followed here, indicate that it will be a thing of beauty. A legal contract will be signed after proper preparations are made.

EVACUATION DAY IN NEW YORK

New York, Nov. 25.—Evacuation day, the holiday that "Little Old New York" keeps all her own, was celebrated today with the customary parade of the Old Guard down Broadway, followed by the raising of flags at the sites of the old Revolutionary forts and winding up with a dinner by the Sons of American Revolution and other patriotic societies. It was on this date in 1783 that the last of the British troops on American soil departed from this city, and as their ships made their way down the bay Washington's army entered.

Will Be HOSPITAL DONATION DAY SHOW YOUR APPRECIATION

Prepare for Sailing Of Christmas Ship

Time yet to Make Donation Though Cargo is About Completed

New York, Nov. 25.—(By United Press)—Boxes, bales and bundles of supplies to form the cargo of the American Red Cross Christmas relief ship for the benefit of Syrians were arriving at Red Cross Bush terminal in Brooklyn today—the last day of their availability. The relief ship is to sail for Beirut, Syria about December 1. The shipment will be chiefly clothing.

Persons who intended to make gifts but delayed too long still have opportunity. On account of the fighting on the Somme immense stores of hospital supplies are needed. Money donations made the Red Cross for these supplies will be applied promptly.

SEEKS BIG SUM FOR ALLEGED SLANDER

Poughkeepsie, N. Y., Nov. 25.—Whether a printing ring exists in Albany will be aired in the trial of a $100,000 suit for alleged slander which came up in court here today. The suit was brought by A. J. Dowling, former inspector of printing in the now defunct State Department of Efficiency and Economy, against Charles M. Winchester, head of the J. B. Lyon Printing company, of Albany, which does the bulk of the State work. Mr. Dowling charges that Mr. Winchester used the word "blackmail" in such a way as to slander him. In his answer Mr. Winchester admits that he made the remark "What are you trying to do—blackmail me?" but his attorney contends that this cannot be construed as slander. The case was brought to Dutchess county on change of venue.

YOUNG KNOX AND SHOPGIRL WIFE WILL DIVORCE

Son of Senator-Elect Completes Necessary Period of Residence in Reno Today

MARITAL PATH QUITE THORNY

Reno, Nev., Nov. 25.—(By United Press)—Son of the former secretary of state and senator-elect from Pennsylvania, today completed the period of residence here necessary to give him citizenship and a standing in the courts of Nevada. Which is taken to mean that the case of Knox will be filed in the divorce court at an early date. Young Mr. Knox has made no secret of his purpose in taking up residence in Reno. Soon after his arrival he announced that he was here to get a divorce and would make desertion the basis for his suit.

Ever since young Knox eloped from Providence, R. I., in March, 1910, with Miss Mae G. Boiler a pretty shopgirl, the path of romance has been a very thorny one for the young couple. It was while he was a student at a preparatory school that the youth met and fell in love with the auburn-haired salesgirl. After a whirlwind courtship they eloped and traveled vainly through three states before they could find a clergyman to perform the marriage ceremony. Finally a minister in Burlington, Vt., united the runaways.

With his bride young Knox went to his father's home in Washington for the parental blessing. But forgiveness was withheld and he was summarily told by his father that having married to suit his fancy he could get out and hustle for himself.

The young man got a job selling motor cars, but something must have gone wrong with the trade that year because he soon turned to other lines of business. But they, too, failed to bring the success he sought. Papa Knox then relented and took the young couple to live with him in his handsome country home at Valley Forge. This helped some but only for a time. One fine spring morning the young husband packed his bag and departed for Bermuda, without the formality of kissing his wife good-bye. Later there was a reconciliation and the young couple went to reside at Charleston, W. Va. But again the path of romance hit a rocky road and the young couple separated this time for good. Young Mrs. Knox took up her residence in New York, and announced her purpose to seek fame behind the footlights. A few months later the signature of "P. C. Knox, Jr." appeared on the register of the Reno Y. M. C. A., and the glad hand was extended to the newcomer by the divorce lawyers.

BELIEVE VILLA WILL CAPTURE CITY TONIGHT

Communication Between Chihuahua and Juarez Has Been Completely Severed

IS ARMY OFFICER'S OPINION

El Paso, Nov. 25.—(By United Press)—Communication between Chihuahua City and Juarez has ceased. No reports have been received from Gen. Trevino for over 48 hours. The last message from Consul General Garcia declared that Villistas in heavy forces were bombarding the first line trenches and the protecting Carranza forces on Santa Rosa hill. United States officials here believe Chihuahua City will be taken by Villa before nightfall. The battle of Chihuahua City will go down in history as the bloodiest battle of the revolution.

El Paso, Nov. 25.—(By United Press)—Shortly after daylight today a concerted attack on two sides of Chihuahua City was made by Villistas according to a report received by the United States department agents here. Consul General Garcia stated today that the message telling of the beginning of a three day's battle between the defacto government and Villa has not been received.

Mexican Commission Prepares Protocol

Only Carranza New Stands in Way of a Final Agreement.

Washington, Nov. 25.—(By United Press)—Only General Carranza now stands in the way of removing General Pershing's troops from the border. The American commissioners at Atlantic City have prepared a protocol and inasmuch as the terms named have been recommended by President Wilson it is believed that General Carranza will sign it. He may however disagree to the provision that the United States be allowed to follow bandits into Mexico at any time. If Villa captures Chihuahua City it will upset the plans to withdraw the soldiers from the border. Their withdrawal in forty days is based upon conditions during that time.

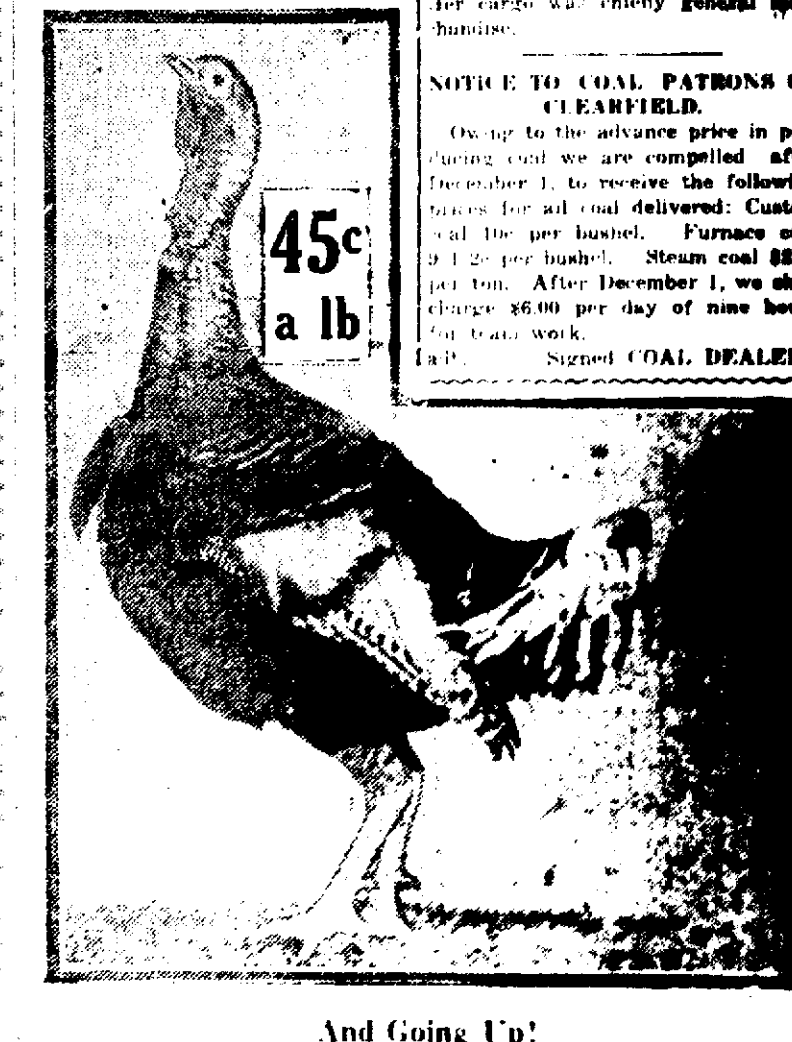

LINER AFIRE OFF BLACK ISLAND IN ATLANTIC

Newport, R. I., Nov. 25.—(By United Press)—Admiral Knight commander of the destroyer, Flotilla here received a wireless from the Powhatan, of the Merchants & Miner's Line, stating that it was afire off Block Island and early today but the fire was under control. The Powhatan carried 115 passengers and a crew of 40. Her cargo was chiefly general supplies.

Greek Forces Rally to Venizelos And Enter the Great War Today

Affairs in Russian Internal Ministry Become More Complex as Changes are Made

London, Nov. 25.—(By United Press)—Greek forces have rallied to the standard of the former Premier Venizelos and entered the great war today. The provincial government established by Venizelos when King Constantine refused to enter the conflict by declaring war in Bulgaria. Since the revolutionist government was established on the island of Crete and recognized by the Entente Allies a great many Venizelos followers have joined the Serbian regiment in the Macedonian fighting and those who did not join will enter the war against the Bulgarian enemy. Affairs in the Russian internal ministry became more complex today when it was announced that M. Mertoss for several months assist foreign minister has been named to succeed Premier Strumer. Only yesterday it was announced that General Trevoss would succeed Strumer. Early dispatches did not give any reason for the change. While there is a

THE COUNTY FAIR.

It may seem odd to our readers that we choose this subject for editorial treatment at this season of the year. The fair is over; has been for two months and another will not be held until next fall but there are some matters in connection with the County Fair that are worthy of comment at this time.

In the opinion of all who attended the fair this year it was a great success in every respect save one of which we will treat later. In exhibits, in completeness, in management and in grandeur it surpassed the dreams of the promoters and visitors alike. Around a newspaper office we usually hear both sides of any question and it is worthy of note that we have not heard one word of criticism on the Clearfield County Fair.

We believe that it done wonders toward stamping out jealousies and sectional feeling in Clearfield County. The press of the entire county were loud in their praises of the clean amusements and beautiful exhibits. Some comment was heard on the beauty of the little park where it was held.

The agricultural interests of the county were advanced wonderfully. It gives the county "a place in the sun" to have a county fair. A fair makes the farmers' interests a subject of general conversation and interest. Events transpiring on the fair grounds are the occasion for press notices all over the state. This form of publicity will do wonders towards advancing the interests of the people of the whole county.

We know Bradford County for its oil wells; Venango County for its prohibition judge; Indiana County for its buckwheat cakes and Lebanon County for its sausage. Clearfield County is already well known as the center of the Clearfield Coal Region. The county fair will do its part in making it known as a wide awake agricultural community as well.

We now come to the financial end of the proposition. In this respect only, the fair was not a success, provided that we look at it from the commercial angle alone. The Guarantee Fund Committee is mailing to each guarantor a statement of the receipts and expenditures of the fair which shows that the deficit amounts to approximately 67 per cent of the guarantee fund. The committee, of course, regrets that this deficit exists but when all the circumstances are considered the result is not surprising.

While we do not have a shadow of criticism to offer on the management, it will be only natural that with succeeding fairs, they will find that there can be many economies effected that will materially alter the balance sheet. It must be remembered that this was the maiden attempt at running a full sized county fair and in our opinion the fair was conducted properly in every respect.

Allowance must be made for the fact that the weather was not at all favorable and deterred a large number of people from going to the fair on the biggest day of the program. On Thursday, the biggest day of all, there would have been hundreds of auto parties from all over the county in attendance.

The paralysis quarantine caused the biggest loss of all. When we consider that none under sixteen were admitted to the fair grounds on any of the four days we immediately see a loss in revenue of considerably over $1,000. It is very reasonable to presume that at least four hundred children who would have paid twenty-five cents each were legally forced to forego the pleasures of the county fair. Not a few adults were kept away through having to stay at home with the children and some were timid about exposing themselves to the disease.

The Clearfield County Fair is not a matter of one season and we understand the Fair Association is already perfecting plans for next year. To carry it to success the united support of our business people will be necessary. It is not expected that infantile paralysis will play its part next year and as for the weather, it is not likely that we will be so unfortunate in the second attempt.

OSCEOLA MILLS

William Merton Sr. for many years a resident of this place died at his home on Thursday morning. Although the deceased has been in ill health for some months his condition had greatly improved and the end came suddenly.

Deceased was about 65 years of age and a consistent member of the Catholic church. When the lumber industry was one of our chief interests, Mr. Merton was employed on the mill, and afterward followed mining as his occupation.

Patrick Gibby of Morrisdale was in town on Friday in conference with the operators and miners endeavoring to secure an adjustment of the trouble now existing. It is thought that an agreement will be reached within a day or two.

Hon. C. H. Rowland, of Philadelphia transacted business in town on Friday.

A. K. Wright of Clearfield was in town on Friday looking after the interests of his coal operations here.

Mrs. A. A. Matley who is ill of nervous prostration left for Philadelphia on Tuesday for treatment. Dr. A. C. Lynn her physician accompanied her.

The Y. M. C. A. boys have secured a return engagement of the Bucknell Trio for December second. The entertainment by these people last year was greatly appreciated.

Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Rickenbaugh were in Lewisburg this week attending the funeral of Mrs. Anna B. Rickenbaugh mother of the farmer, whose death occurred at her home in that town Tuesday morning. Her death which was very sudden was quite a shock to her friends and acquaintances here who have had the pleasure of knowing her during her visits to her son who is treasurer and general manager of the firm of Rickenbaugh & Co. The other surviving children are Guy formerly of Tyrone and at one time cashier of one of the local banks in Clearfield, now assistant cashier of the Irving National Bank of New York. The following sisters Miss Gertrude and Mary T. at home and Mrs. Walter Leonard of Titusville, Pa.

MADISON SQUARE GARDEN
NEARS END
Nov. 22—The most fashionable entertainment center and one of the most beautiful architectural landmarks of modern New York will shortly pass into the hands of new owners unless the forthcoming purchasers of Madison Square Garden decide to retain the policy of excluding the large building as it has been in the past. A continuation of the present policy however is not recommended at all probable, in view of the fact that as an amusement enterprise, Madison Square Garden has been a financial failure. It is the general understanding that when the large structure goes under the hammer it will be torn down and a skyscraper erected on the site.

The present Madison Square Garden dates from 1899, in which year the new building was completed and opened. Edward Strauss and his orchestra and two ballets provided the initial entertainment. For twenty years before this date the site had been occupied by Madison Square Garden, built on an old horse racing track of the New York Central and Hudson River Railroad and finally torn down in 1899.

IF BACK HURTS BEGIN ON SALTS

Flush your kidneys occasionally if you eat meat regularly.

No man or woman who eats meat regularly can make a mistake by flushing the kidneys occasionally with a well-known authority. Most kidney trouble arises when the kidney fails to get rid of the waste and poison from the blood, then you get rheumatism, neuralgia, headache, backache, nervousness, constipation, dizziness, sleeplessness, bladder disorders, etc.

The moment you feel a dull ache in the kidneys or your back hurts, or if the urine is cloudy, effusive, full of sediment, irregular in passage or attended by a constriction, or if you feel about four ounces of fluid, salts from any reliable pharmacy, and take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days, and your kidneys will then get rid of the acid waste and the blood will be purified, thereby avoiding kidney complications.

Dr. J. C. Ward, of the Clearfield Hospital, says: "I have seen many cases of kidney trouble, and I have found that the most common cause of it is the use of meat. Meat is a rich source of acid, and it is the acid that builds up the kidneys and causes them to become inflamed. The acid also builds up the blood, and the blood becomes thick and sticky, and this causes the kidneys to become inflamed. The kidneys are the filters of the body, and they are the only organs that can get rid of the acid waste from the blood. If the kidneys become inflamed, they are unable to do their work, and the acid waste builds up in the blood, and this causes the various symptoms of kidney trouble."

CURWENSVILLE NEWS

Curwensville K. of P. lodge conferred the rank of Knighthood on three Esquires Thursday evening.

A social dance will be held in the Moose hall next Wednesday evening. Good order and excellent music will prevail.

Master Murray Clark, one of the Progress carrier boys, has been confined to his home this week by a slight attack of pleurisy.

Mrs. D. W. Hauck and daughter, Miss Iva Hauck, of near Luthersburg, are visitors in the home of Mr. and Mrs. L. J. LaPorte.

A number of Curwensville young ladies have issued invitations for the holding of a leap year dance at the Park hotel on the evening of the 28th inst.

Rev. S. C. Watts will address the meeting in the M. E. church Sunday evening on a report of the Methodist Men's convention held at Harrisburg this week.

At the regular meeting of the Boy Scouts, Tuesday the 28th the first illustrated lecture on Boy Scout work of a series of four, will be given by the scoutmaster.

Claude R. Price of this place, and Miss Eva N. Stein, of Clearfield, were united in marriage at the M. E. parsonage yesterday afternoon, by Rev. Max Lantz.

Next Tuesday has been designated as hospital day for Curwensville people. It is hoped that a liberal donation will be made for this most worthy institution.

Family relatives here of Mrs. John Haworth, who fell and broke a hip bone at her Philipsburg home some ten months ago, have been notified that she is now suffering from a severe attack of pneumonia.

John I. Bloom, one of the oldest and best known residents of Pike township, died at 4 o'clock this morning after an illness of several weeks duration, aged 86 years. Proper obituary notice Monday.

The men who are engaged in hauling the coal from the Bickford mines to the brickyard, have asked for an advance in tonnage from 67 cents per gross ton to 75 cents. There are about twelve teams engaged in this occupation.

We have been requested to announce that an apron and food sale will be held at the store of M. Kovach, Filbert street, on Thursday, December 7th. The proceeds will be applied to the improvements of the Presbyterian church building.

Next Tuesday, the 28th is the time set for the meeting of the Civic club. It would be well if all members of that organization would strain a point to get to this meeting, as it promises to be one of the most interesting ever held.

At the Sunday morning service in the M. E. church Rev. Max Lantz, the pastor, will preach a Thanksgiving sermon. Not only the members of the congregation are requested to be present but all other persons who are not connected with any of the other congregations of the town are most cordially invited to be present.

John Pifer, the man who has drilled more water wells than any other one man in this county, has just finished one on the farm of Merritt Caldwell boring to the depth of 242 feet. He declared that he would drill clear through to Chintown but what he would strike a water supply. He struck it before reaching the domain of the pictorial.

A sort of a family reunion supper was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph L. Dale, George street, on Thursday evening at which the following members participated: Paul Dale and wife; William Dale and wife; John Dale and wife and Mrs. Addelman. A pleasant evening was enjoyed by all present.

An X-ray photograph was taken of the left leg of Samuel G. Norris yesterday by Dr. Watersworth. An examination of the photo showed that there was a good chance of the broken bones knitting, and his physician is now confident that the limb can be saved, and that amputation will not be at all necessary. This is indeed good and encouraging news for the family and also for Mr. Norris' Curwensville friends.

The snow flurry and cold snap of yesterday caused the plumbers of town to be on the jump from early dawn until late at night. A number of breaks in water pipes were reported to the Curwensville Heating and Plumbing company last evening.

Hunters are living in anticipation of two or three inches of snow before the first of December and are preparing camp equipments and overhauling guns and war bags.

A sort of family reunion was held at the home of Harry Lyons the latter part of this week. The boys who are scattered over four states were all at home also a daughter. Those present were B. F. Lyons, Cleveland, O.; R. E. Lyons, Hartford, Conn.; E. W. Lyons, Pittsburgh, T. F. Lyons, Chicago, Ill., and Cornelia Lyons, New York City. This is the first instance that the entire family has been together for a good many years and the meeting was a most pleasant one for all concerned.

The members of the Sunday school board of the M. E. church held a special meeting on Thursday evening at 8 o'clock, at which time there was some very good addresses given by the pastor and members of the board along the line of Sunday school work. Then an outline of the Christmas exercises was given by Miss Ruth Robinson, chairman of that committee, after which they all retired to the dining department for a supper which had been prepared by the young ladies of the Queen Esther circle, and all the good things that one could wish for they had prepared in the most appetizing manner. The tables were loaded down with good things. After all had done ample justice to the inner man, which was thirty in number, a few spicy toasts were given, after which a vote of thanks was given to the ladies who composed the circle for their excellent repast. After spending a most pleasant evening all departed for their homes feeling that it was good to be there.

OUCH! LUMBAGO! RUB! PAINS FROM SORE, LAME BACK

Back hurt you? Can't straighten up without feeling sudden pains, sharp aches and twinges? Now listen! That's lumbago, sciatica or may be from a strain, and you'll get relief the moment you rub your back with soothing, penetrating "St. Jacob's Oil." Nothing else takes out soreness, lameness and stiffness so quickly. You simply rub it on your back and out comes the pain. It is harmless and doesn't burn the skin. Limber up! Don't suffer! Get a small trial bottle of old, honest "St. Jacob's Oil" from any drug store, and after using it just once, you'll forget that you ever had backache, lumbago or sciatica, because your back will never hurt or cause any more misery. It never disappoints and has been recommended for 60 years.

CHURCH TO CELEBRATE JUBILEE

New York, Nov. 25.—A committee composed of W. Bourke Cochran, Nicholas F. Lesson IX.—Fourth Quarter, For Nov. 26, 1916.

THE INTERNATIONAL SERIES.

Text of the Lesson, Rom. xii, 1-8. Memory Verses, 6-8—Golden Text, Rom. xii, 1—Commentary Prepared by Rev. D. M. Stearns.

This is our last study in the epistles for some time to come, but the believer who desires to grow in grace and walk with the Lord will study them constantly. In our lesson of two weeks ago we gave some attention to the whole of this epistle, but a little repetition will be helpful, with some additional thoughts. The epistles, as a rule, are for believers or saints or saved sinners to build them up and fit them for service, that God may be glorified in them and other sinners saved to help complete the church and bring the time of the kingdom. The first eight chapters of this letter teach most fully and clearly that all, without exception, Jews and Gentiles, are sinners and guilty before God and that salvation is wholly of grace, apart from any works of ours, and that, being justified freely by His grace, we are made children of God, joint heirs with Jesus Christ, in the love from which nothing can separate us; that, while we wait for our redemption bodies and the deliverance of the whole creation from its bondage and groaning, we have all things freely given us in Christ and all things are working together for our highest good.

Chapters ix, x, xi, may well be called an epistle within an epistle concerning Israel and her future. Then in our lesson chapter and onward we are told how we ought to live here to the glory of God because of all that He has done for us through grace. "I beseech you, therefore, brethren, by the mercies of God," because of His great grace, His great love, His great salvation, the great glory of the kingdom to which He has called you, all that He has done for you, is doing now and will yet do. Let Him have your body to live in, to make a mansion of, while He is preparing your mansion in glory. In Rom. viii, 26, 31, 34, we learn that the Father, Son and Holy Spirit are all for us, and in John xiv, 17, 23, we learn that they will make their home in us if we are willing, making each of us a mansion for the indwelling Trinity while our mansion in heaven is being prepared. The words "mansion" and "abode" in John xiv, 23, are the same word in the Greek, a little noun of only four letters, and used nowhere else.

The same truth is stated a little differently in Eph. iii, 17, "that Christ may dwell in you, is doing now and will yet do. Let Him have your body to live in, to make a mansion of, while He is preparing your mansion in glory. In Rom. viii, 26, 31, 34, we learn that the Father, Son and Holy Spirit are all for us, and in John xiv, 17, 23, we learn that they will make their home in us if we are willing, making each of us a mansion for the indwelling Trinity while our mansion in heaven is being prepared. The words "mansion" and "abode" in John xiv, 23, are the same word in the Greek, a little noun of only four letters, and used nowhere else.

The works of God are beautiful, but men at enmity with God are under the control of the devil, and the condition of things in Europe (June, 1915) gives us some idea of what he can do. He is a deceiver, a liar, a destroyer, a murderer, and all who are not in Christ and on his side are on the side of the devil. How can a child of God be willing to be conformed to such a world? The word that is translated "transformed," is used only four times and twice in the account of our Lord's transfiguration (Mk. ix, 2 and Mark ix, 3). The other place besides here is in Cor. iii, 18, where the translation is "are changed." Our lesson verse says that the change must be inward, the renewing of our mind. It begins when we receive the Lord Jesus, and then as we continue beholding Him we are changed by the Spirit day by day, proving more and more fully how good and acceptable and perfect the will of God is.

All that follows in our lesson chapter is the varied manifestation of the fruit of the Spirit, which He will work in us if we are yielded to Him. Verses 2-16 tell of a lowly mind and a lowly spirit, not thinking anything of ourselves nor seeking great things for ourselves. There is a peace and a ministry for each member of the body, as the Spirit may decide, and no room for envy or jealousy (verses 4-8). In the service of the Lord there must be diligence, with love and patient and prayer and love, a readiness to forgive and to esteem others better than ourselves (verses 9-12). Verse 13 hints that it may not be possible to live blameless with some people, and such circumstances will need steadfast grace and wisdom and guidance, which God will not fail to give.

These Tremendous Advantages—

More power—35 horsepower motor.
More room—112-inch wheelbase.
Greater comfort—long, 48-inch cantilever rear springs and 4-inch tires.
Greater convenience—electrical control buttons on steering column.
Bigger, safer brakes—service, 13½x2¼; emergency, 13x2¼.
Better cooling—you never heard of an Overland motor overheating.

These are tremendous advantages over anything to be had in other cars that sell for anywhere near as low a price. And they make it hard for us to keep up with orders. The factory has never yet caught up with the demand. You ought to own one of these cars—nothing else so big and fine for the money. Come in and order yours now.

OVERLAND 75 - B PERFORMS WONDERS ON SEVERE HILL, CLIMB TEST IN STRAITS SETTLEMENT.

From far off Penang, next to Singapore, the most important city in the Straits Settlements in the East Indies, comes another story of the remarkable power and endurance of the New Series Model 75 B Overland.

In this instance the small but powerful car negotiated the entire distance from the base to the top of Government Hill, a little more than 2400 feet in height, over a road practically unknown to vehicle traffic. Its steep grade can be better appreciated when it is known that the usual way of ascending it is in a chair carried by six coolies.

The road up the side of Government Hill measures 2.85 miles from the bottom to the top and it has an average gradient of 1 to 6.3. The ascent was made more difficult by the bars of earth which run obliquely across the road, at intervals of 40 feet, in order to direct the rain water into the drain at the side. These bars are about five inches high with their side slopes sloping at an angle of 40 degrees.

"Ever since I took up motoring my ambition has been to climb to the top of Government Hill," writes T. Kwong Kai of Penang, who made the ascent. "The difficulties of the climb lie in the bars across the road and the hairpin corners. Whenever one of these bars was crossed the car jumped into the air and the engine did 2,000 revolutions per minute. When the rear wheels came back to earth we could almost hear the road eating chunks out of the tires. At every jump, some of the passengers thought the frame would snap in two. The driver had to cling to the steering wheel while the passengers gripped the sides of the body.

The car took the hairpins easily, but there were some of which were too sharp to allow the car to pass without reversing. When it was found that the car could not turn around, the throttle was closed and as soon as the car was running backwards the front wheels were turned the opposite way; when a favorable position was reached, the car was stopped and wooden blocks put behind the rear wheels. This made restarting easier than when the brakes were applied the whole time when we were 2.3 miles from the bottom, a heavy rain came up and we postponed the trip until the next day.

"On the following day the road was dry again and we were soon off to our destination. The car stopped near a stone displaying the inscription '2776 feet above the sea level.' Somehow or other we managed to turn around in the 16-foot road and we started down. The descent was made without incident and during the whole trip the car depended entirely on its own brakes.

"In spite of the prolonged and low gear coming down the hill, the car never overheated and the last watered tour for the first annual observance amounted to only two gallons of gas. The purpose of the observance is to use on the journey, a little less than not only to increase the use of gas but five miles, which normally would have propelled the car over more than 20 miles of level road."

OREGON LAW WILL LIMIT WOMEN WORKERS

Next Legislature Will Provide for 48 hour Week and Half Holiday on Saturday

MODELED AFTER ALI CFORIAN

Portland, Ore., Nov. 24.—(By United Press)—A 48-hours of labor a week law for women will be placed before the Oregon state legislature when it meets the second Monday in January, by the Consumers league of Portland.

This act provides that women may not work for wages more than 48 hours a week. It does NOT, however limit their labor to eight hours a day. The idea is that women may work more than eight hours five days a week, so they may have a half-holiday on Saturdays.

The law is modeled generally after the California law. Father O'Hara, a prominent member of the Consumers' league says a bill similar to this will probably be submitted to all the state legislatures assembling this year.

Another bill to be presented to the Oregon legislature provides that owners of cold storage warehouses must make monthly reports to certain designated government officials, giving a detailed inventory of all goods in their plants. This law is intended to halt the practice of storing perishables, such as butter, during a low price period, and keeping them until the prices go up.

TESTIMONIAL TO OLDEST ACTOR

New York, Nov. 25.—All the leading theatrical managers in New York together with a vast number of prominent actors and actresses now appearing in this city have tendered their services for the testimonial performance to be given at New Amsterdam Theater tomorrow afternoon in honor of F. F. Mackay. The performance will be given under the auspices of the Actors' Fund. The recipient of the testimonial is one of the best known veterans of the American stage. At the present time he is believed to be the oldest active actor in the country.

"NATIONAL FISHERIES DAY"

Baltimore, Md., Nov. 24.—The National Association of Fisheries Commissioners, which includes the commissioners of 26 states, has designated tomorrow for the first annual observance of "National Fisheries Day." The purpose of the observance is to use on the journey, a little less than not only to increase the use of gas but five miles, which normally would have propelled the car over more than 20 miles of level road."

COMB SAGE TEA INTO GRAY HAIR

Darkens Beautifully and Restores Its Natural Color and Lustre at Once

Common garden sage brewed into a heavy tea, with sulphur and alcohol added, will turn gray streaked and faded hair beautifully dark and luxuriant. Mixing the Sage Tea and Sulphur recipe at home, though, is troublesome. An easier way is to get the ready-to-use preparation improved by the addition of other ingredients, costing about 50 cents a large bottle, at drug stores, known as "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound," thus avoiding a lot of muss. While, gray, faded hair is not sinful, we all desire to retain our youthful appearance and attractiveness. By darkening your hair with Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound, no one can tell because it does it so naturally, so evenly. You just dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through your hair, taking one small strand at a time; by morning all gray hairs have disappeared. After another application or two your hair becomes beautifully dark, glossy, soft and luxuriant and you appear years younger. Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound is a delightful toilet requisite. It is not intended for the cure, mitigation or prevention of disease.

Those who would attain to any marked degree of excellence in a chosen pursuit must work, and work hard for it, prince or peasant.

—Bayard Taylor.

"THE MAN FROM BITTER ROOTS"

William Farnum takes the part of a miner, Bruce Burt.

Bruce starts out on a hunt for the sister of his former partner in the mining-camp, to give her the share of gold dust due her. In the search, he tells his story to another man, T. V. Sprudell, who finds the girl, gives her $500, which, he says, is the share due her from the mine, and starts the Bitter Roots Mining Co. for himself.

Then Bruce turns up. He has learned of the scheme of the unscrupulous financier, and he is determined to foil it. He finds the girl, tells her the true story, and forms a partnership with her. They determine to fight Sprudell, and regain ownership of the mine.

A new plant goes up on the Bitter Roots Mining Co. property. It belongs to Bruce and Helen. But it is scarcely completed when a devastating fire sweeps the land, destroys the building, and leaves the place a ruin. Everything has gone against Bruce. At a great sacrifice, Helen goes to Bruce's father, a wealthy ranchman, from whom he has been estranged. The party, and goodness of the girl, and her earnest pleas for the wins the old man, and father and son are re-united. The Bitter Roots Mining Co. is re-established, and Helen becomes general manager of more things than a mine.

TRIO OF TRIANGLE STARS SEEN IN "HONOR THY NAME"

Frank Keenan, Charles Ray and Louise Glaum Have Leading Roles in Southern Drama

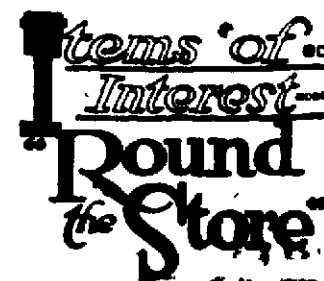

Frank Keenan, Charles Ray and Louise Glaum are to be seen in "Honor Thy Name" Triangle-Ince play, to be seen at the Opera House Monday. "Honor Thy Name" is the story of a father's sacrifice to save his son. Colonel Slocum Castleton (Frank Keenan) was a gray blade in his day, and one of his flames had been the celebrated opera singer Rosita. But, one night returning to his apartment, he had found her with another man and promptly dropped her.

Now he is a respected Southern gentleman, living quietly with his wife and son Rodney. Rodney (Charles Ray) is in love with Rosalee Carey, a distant cousin, and the prospective match is thoroughly acceptable to Rodney's parents. Then the Colonel sends his son to New York to the university. There Rodney falls into bad company and presently is introduced to Viola Bretagne (Louise Glaum), a cabaret dancer. She, real girl, he is a young man of considerable means, spreads her net to catch him, and very soon after Rodney writes home to his father that he is going to marry "the sweetest girl in New York". The old man at once comes to New York and, straightening himself up, takes the girl away from Rodney just to show him how unworthy she is. Then it develops that viola is the daughter of Rosita, and all of her mother's desire for revenge comes back. Viola wins Rodney back, and after a drunken spree he finds that he has married her. She makes him take her to his father's home. There she declines to accept the father's cash terms for final settlement, and the old man determines on a way to get rid of her that is one of the most terrible, but withal one of the most thrilling, series of scenes ever shown upon the screen.

AN AUTHOR OF MANY SUCCESSES

Fred Jackson, the author of "A Full House" who now enjoys the distinction of having written the biggest farce hit of the century, has several other successful plays to his credit. This American author's ability to write funny plays of such distinguished merit, has been the subject of much wonderment and newspaper comment. "A Full House" is as thoroughly American in topic and treatment as it is in title. The story is most ingenious in its basis and development, and a factor greatly to its credit is that it is good, clean, wholesome fun, the kind of humor that men can discuss freely, not only with their own women folk, but with the women folk of others. "A Full House" sounds very like a big hard, and it will take a mighty good combination to beat it. The play will be presented in this city at the Opera House on Tuesday evening. Seats now on sale.
